DEAR READERS:

ONCE AGAIN we come to the close of another year and survey its trials while beholding the abundance of grace supplied by our heavenly Father. For that which has been accomplished we humbly give the praise to the Lord. All glory belongs unto Him who has called us into His service.

AND NOW, as you the readers, again reflect upon the pages of THE MISSION TRAIL for 1968, it is our sincere wish that you may be made stronger to face the trials and struggles for the new year of 1969. And may we all unite together to sound forth the proclamation of God's word both on the air and by the printed pages.

Yours for the gospel,
